About Traci's Home

Traci's Home is a women's sober house with a phased approach that gradually increases independence as residents demonstrate progress in recovery in New Bedford, Massachusetts. The residence is a sober living option for women seeking a stable place to maintain recovery while managing everyday responsibilities.

There Is A Solution operates the residence and uses successive phases with changing expectations for curfew, meeting attendance, and time away from the house. Residents considering Traci's Home can discuss the admission process, current availability, and household expectations directly with There Is A Solution, Inc..
