About This Recovery Home

A Father's Vision: South End Recovery House is sober living for women in Charlotte, North Carolina, a certified home on Providence Road with 18 beds. Seventeen of those beds are in shared rooms and one room is private. Women on medication-assisted treatment are accepted, as are women with a dual diagnosis or prescribed medication. Cars park in the driveway, and a bus comes by roughly every 30 minutes for trips to work, counseling or the pharmacy. Air conditioning, laundry, storage, cable and a computer station are part of the house. A Father's Vision operates this house, its only women's home; the same operator runs A Father's Vision: York Chester Recovery House in Gastonia and A Father's Vision: Kannapolis Recovery House in Kannapolis, both for men. Every Sunday at 8 pm the women hold their house meeting. Residents also attend three recovery meetings weekly. Curfew is 10 pm at first, then midnight once a woman has 30 days in the house. Newcomers without a job get two weeks to find one. A House Mentor lives in, and screening is random.

Home Leadership & Certification

This recovery house is operated by A Father's Vision LLC under the leadership of Elonzo Stroud, a Recovery Coach Professional (RCP). Certified by the North Carolina Association of Recovery Residences (NCARR).

A Father's Vision: South End Recovery House — Charlotte, NC

Vanderburgh SOBER LIVING

Life in the House

South End is a peer-led house for eighteen women on Providence Road in southeast Charlotte, run by A Father's Vision under Elonzo Stroud, a Recovery Coach Professional. The women build their recovery together: they share the household, hold each other accountable, and take part in an active recovery culture both inside the home and across the city. A House Mentor lives in the house and guides the day to day.

The house meeting is on Sunday evenings at 8 PM. For the first 30 days, curfew is 10 PM, and after that it moves to midnight. Drug and alcohol tests at South End are random.

What the Structure Looks Like

- Sunday house meetings, at 8 PM
- Eighteen women, sharing the work of running the house
- A House Mentor living with the women, and random testing
- 10 PM curfew for 30 days, then midnight
- Job placement and recovery coaching, with case management and aftercare
