About This Recovery Home

Kayaly: Beechwood Sober House is sober living for men in Pawtucket, Rhode Island, on Beechwood Avenue a few minutes north of Providence. Seventeen men can live here, three with a private room and fourteen sharing. Men here have free WiFi, air conditioning, premium cable, storage space, laundry and a computer station, plus parking. Public transportation, counseling, a grocery store and pharmacy, parks and job openings are close by, along with Pawtucket's men's recovery meetings. Beechwood is a chartered Kayaly Recovery home, with a House Mentor in long-term recovery living under the same roof. Residents hold each other to account through weekly house meetings and a share of the household work, with random drug screening in place. Kayaly also operates Kayaly: Cottage Sober House elsewhere in Pawtucket, and New Hope Sober House in neighboring North Providence offers a larger house under the same operator.

Kayaly: Beechwood Sober House — Pawtucket, RI

Vanderburgh SOBER LIVING

Life in the House

Beechwood is a peer-led house for seventeen men in Pawtucket, just north of Providence. Guests take an active part in their own progress and in their housemates', so the men grow together rather than alone. Operator Frank Moreau of Kayaly Recovery has worked with the recovery community for fourteen years, and he runs his homes with the safety and comfort of guests in mind.

A House Mentor in long-term recovery lives in the home and manages the day to day. New guests can expect weekly house meetings, a daily routine, shared chores and random drug and alcohol screening.

What the Structure Looks Like

- A peer-led model, where guests support each other's progress
- Weekly meetings and a daily routine, that give the house structure
- Drug and alcohol tests at random, for all seventeen guests
- A House Mentor in long-term recovery, living at Beechwood
- Shared chores, for every man in the house

About Kayaly Recovery

The Kayaly Beechwood Men's Sober House in Pawtucket, Rhode Island offers a quality living environment for men in recovery. The home is operated under the leadership of Frank Moreau. Frank has worked with the recovery community for 14 years and has served as an executive member of the Ocean State Coalition of Recovery Houses for over 10 years.
